A Taste Of honey -- Beatles 1962 (Sent by jckfran1[at]yahoo.com) The following represents my own representation of this beautiful song. Use however you please! Please email me with any comments or corrections.... I found the original key (on the original album) to be somewhere between Fm and F#m. The Beatles, I think, rather enjoyed tuning up or down to suit their vocal characteristics. I also found it in the key of Fm (sounded like they were actually rehearsing this song, and probably were) from a downloaded Mp3 from one of the share sites. However, the F#m key is much more simple for the guitar, so here is what I have. The lyrics are straight from the record. Any chord mistakes are of my own doing. Enjoy! Key = F#m notes plucked during the verse, along with the B chord notes played on the 11th fret. However, B played on the 2nd fret does just as well.
