   Gm             D7                                  Gm
   Raven hair and ruby lips,  Sparks fly from her finger tips, D7                                          Gm Echoed voices in the night,  She's a restless spriit on and endless flight

chorus
   Gm      D7                                      Gm
   Woo-hoo witchy woman, see how high she flies
   Gm      D7                                      Gm
   Woo-hoo witchy woman, see got the moon in her eyes

   Gm                      D7                                          Gm
    She had me spell-bound in the night.  Dancing shadows in the fire light
                        D7
   Crazy laughter in another room,
                                              Gm
    And she drove herself to madness with a silver spoon. (al coda

Gm
   I know you want to love her, but let me tell you brother,
                Cm           Bb      Gm
   She's been sleepin in the devil's bed.

   There's some rumors goin round.  Someone's underground,
           Bb              C                Gm
   She can rock you in the night until your skin turns red
